WEBULL CORPORATION

DATA DISCLAIMER

The following terms and disclaimers cover all data (including market data from different exchanges, fundamental data such as financial reports, analysis data, corporate actions, and news) provided on this website and any other website provided by Webull Corporation and its affiliates.

The market data and news information are provided by third party content providers. Webull Corporation is not involved in the preparation, adoption or editing of third party content and does not explicitly or implicitly endorse or approve such content. The third party content providers do not explicitly or implicitly endorse or approve the third party content, nor do they give investment advice, or advocate the purchase or sale of any security or investment. Webull Corporation and the third party content providers do not guarantee the accuracy and reliability of such content. Webull Corporation does not bear any legal liability to the user for any loss or damages arising from delivery delay, error or omission of such third party content.

While Webull Corporation makes every attempt to provide accurate and timely information to serve the needs of its users, it cannot guarantee the accuracy, completeness, timeliness or applicability of usages. No information provided on this website constitutes investment advice. The user is solely responsible for any risk or consequence arising from actions taken based on accessing this content and Webull Corporation does not bear any legal liability arising from such actions.

Webull Corporation does not bear any legal liability for any information or record loss resulting from a malfunction of the user's own network or device, or for any delay, suspension or interruption of the market data disseminated by securities exchanges or other third party content providers.

Webull Corporation does not bear any legal liability for any losses resulting from a service interruption or a force majeure.

Webull Corporation will make all reasonable efforts to notify users in advance of normal service interruptions caused by system maintenance and updates, but it retains the right to suspend or terminate partial or whole network services without prior notice to users. Webull Corporation does not bear legal liability for any loss arising from a service suspension or termination.

This website contains links to other independent third party websites. These linked websites are provided solely as a convenience to our visitors. Information provided by third parties either on this website or on third party websites does not reflect the views of Webull Corporation. The features on this website are designed for informational purposes only and are not intended as recommendations to buy or sell any securities.

All investments involve risk, and the past performance of a security or financial product does not guarantee future results or returns. While diversification may help spread risk, it does not assure a profit or protect against loss; there is always the potential of losing money when you invest in securities, or other financial products. Investors should consider their investment objectives and risks carefully before investing.
